Aged Care Volunteer Visitors Scheme

Can you volunteer 1 hour a fortnight?

The Aged Care Volunteer Visitors Scheme (ACVVS) is a government initiative that enriches the lives of older people through genuine, meaningful connections.

Older people who may be looking to build new social connections are paired with a regular volunteer visitor in their area. Volunteers are carefully matched with someone who shares their interests and make regular visits, typically for an hour once a fortnight.

What is involved?

- Volunteers have a 1 hour a fortnight commitment with flexible time arrangements
- They support the older person's wellbeing by providing companionship and connection
- Participants can either chat, go for a walk, or complete an activity together
- This is a great way to make a new friendship.

Your experience, time and energy is valued.

Enquire today about becoming a volunteer, and make a genuine difference in the life of an older person.
